Annual Employment Law Update

These are indeed tough and uniquely challenging times. As a Human Resources professional you are right in the middle of things. You need to hire, train and maintain the right workforce. You need to motivate, compensate and evaluate but not perspire. You are a survivor. You have to be. You are at times, stranded in a jungle of issues and entangled in seemingly endless vines of employment laws and regulations. You are also at times surrounded by whining tribe members and other wild beasts. There are legal obstacles, hidden traps and dangers. You will have to solve problems, build consensus and coalitions to make your way through these many challenges before reaching safety or at least your objectives for that day. There is no option but to survive. You have to press on and confront the challenges of every day. Don't worry, you are not alone. You have tools, resources and other members of the HR tribe to help you.

This is the setting for our annual Legal (Employment Law) Update with well-known employment lawyer, Jim Reidy. As he has done in other annual programs like this Jim will review the important legal developments facing employers. He will then test your knowledge, instincts and HR survival skills. In keeping with other educational and entertaining Jim has offered, audience participation is a must. Yes, lots of prizes will be awarded.

This interactive program is the latest of employment law presentation from Attorney Jim Reidy. Others award-winning presentations include: "Who Wants to Avoid a Million Dollar Lawsuit"; "HR Hollywood Snares"; "HR in Jeopardy"; "Employment Law Extreme Makeover: the Office Edition"; "Let's Take an Appeal"; "HR Trivial Dispute"; "Law in Order"; "Employment Disputes: Deal or No Deal"; "ARE YOU SMARTER THAN THE INVESTIGATOR?"; and, "HR Myth Busters".

This should be another fun and informative program. These are often our most popular programs. This presentation should not be missed!

About the Speaker:

Jim practices in the areas of labor and employment law with an emphasis on assisting employers in effectively avoiding, or defending against, employment disputes. He represents management in organizations ranging from multi-national corporations, to closely-held, family-owned businesses, to not-for-profit entities and public sector employers. Since joining the Firm in 1989, Jim has expanded an already well-established employment law practice group. This group is now recognized as one of the best in Northern New England.

He has extensive experience handling matters before the New Hampshire Department of Labor, the New Hampshire Commission for Human Rights, the U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission and the U.S. Department of Labor.

Jim regularly writes articles and presents seminars on a wide range of employment law topics. He is frequently asked by the media, business groups and human resources associations to comment on breaking news and recent developments in labor and employment law. He is the co-founder and moderator of NHLABORNET, the popular Internet discussion group for human resource professionals in New Hampshire. Jim is also the creator and serves as the managing editor of Good Company, Sheehan Phinney's quarterly e-newsletter, which features articles on legal developments and best practices in business.
